GATE 48

The image shows the entrance to Gate 48, which is part of a larger building with a glass and metal facade. The entrance consists of a revolving door on the left and a set of double glass doors in the center. The revolving door has a white frame and glass panels. The double doors also have a white frame and glass panels, with a small yellow and blue sign on the right door. Above the entrance, the words "GATE 48" are displayed in a metallic, sans-serif font. The floor in front of the entrance is made of large, light-colored tiles, with a yellow tactile paving strip leading to the doors. To the right of the main entrance, there is a metal frame structure, possibly for a security checkpoint or another entrance. The interior of the building is visible through the glass, showing a brightly lit area with some equipment and a person in the background.
